Uni Guide
University of Basel.
Dear Students,

Congratulations on choosing to study at the University of Basel. With this Uni Guide, we want to welcome you to the Basel area and show that you have made the right decision.

This brochure will make it easier to get started, allowing you to concentrate on your studies with peace of mind. The initial study period presents many questions: How do I get to grips with everyday student life? Where can I find an apartment? How much money do I need for my studies and where can I find a part-time job? As the best tips and tricks come from your fellow students, they will answer these questions themselves. Experienced students also know where the best places are to meet up after class to make the most of life outside the lecture hall – and Basel has plenty to offer!

I hope you enjoy our tips and I wish you every success during your time at our university.

Prof. Dr. Dr. h. c. Andrea Schenker-Wicki
President of the University of Basel

Study

When you start your studies, there will be a whole pile of changes and you may find yourself feeling a little lost. To make sure this doesn’t last too long, we have put together some tips. However, the most important thing is initiative! Talking with your fellow students and asking your lecturers and student committees will make things much easier.
“Errare humanum est,’ to err is human – even the ancient philosophers knew that. And if things don’t always run smoothly to begin with, that’s completely normal. The main thing is to stick with it. Didn’t do as well in your very first exam as you expected? Don’t worry. With a good schedule, mutual support and patience, you’ll soon get used to student life.”

Jaimy Vallapurackal
Law

“Throw yourselves headlong into daily university life: grapple in-depth with the material, challenge what you have learned, be active in the lectures and don’t be afraid to ask critical questions. Don’t allow yourselves to be intimidated at first by the sheer volume of the subject matter – take it step by step and pay attention to good time management. And be sure to visit the University of Basel’s diverse events for your faculty as well, to expand your horizons.”

“Start Smart” Week: Start of program 2023

The “Start Smart” week offers an introduction for new students at the bachelor’s level so that the start of their studies is as smooth as possible. The university management welcomes the new students on Monday morning, September 18, at the Welcome Ceremony, followed by the introductory events of the faculties. In addition, the service units, student organizations and student committees of the University of Basel will present the diverse range of services offered at the Info Market in the Kollegienhaus.

On the following evenings, first-year students can explore the university world. This includes everything from crash courses and presentations to guided tours, for example of the university library, and a bar tour through the city.

Swiss European Mobility Program

The Swiss government’s SEMP program awards mobility and exchange scholarships. The scholarships allow students to participate in one or two exchange semesters or an internship at a partner university. To register, the student must have completed two completed semesters of study. The Student Exchange team at the University of Basel’s International Office can help interested students organize their stay abroad.

Eucor

Eucor – The European Campus is an alliance of five universities based in the Upper Rhine region, namely the Universities of Basel, Freiburg, Haute-Alsace, Strasbourg and the Karlsruhe Institute of Technology (KIT). As a student of the University of Basel, you can attend courses at the partner universities, use libraries and other facilities, and benefit from student discounts. You can study at a partner university for up to two semesters and remain enrolled at the University of Basel. In addition, travel expenses are reimbursed each semester up to a fixed sum. Global Study

The University of Basel is a member of several networks that enable bachelor’s students to spend a semester or year studying in Australia, the United States or Brazil. The University of Basel has also concluded bilateral agreements with various universities around the world that permit students to spend a semester or year abroad. The Student Exchange can help you organize this.
Student checklist

In the first week of the semester, you should:

- Visit an introductory event
- Read your study guidelines
- Draw up a schedule
- Activate your student accounts
- Attend a tour of the University Library
- Activate your UNIcard
- Read the Campus Stories at unibas.ch/campus-stories
- Follow the university of Basel on Instagram: instagram.com/unibasel

Online Services for students

The University of Basel offers its students Online Services. You can log on via services.unibas.ch using your Unibas email address and the corresponding password. Among other things, Online Services cover the following:

Registration
Towards the end of the preceding semester, students and doctoral students already matriculated at the University of Basel (not newly registered students) receive an email at their Unibas address reminding them to register for the next semester. Registration takes place solely via Online Services.

Course registration
Course registration takes place online. The registration period begins on January 1 or August 1 and ends after the fourth week of lectures. Registering for courses is extremely important because if you do not register for your courses at the start of the semester, you will not receive any credit points for them.

Access to academic achievement account
To obtain an overview, you can use Online Services to access your account containing your academic achievements (courses completed successfully/unsuccessfully including grades, credit points and further details). You can also download an up-to-date overview of your achievements in PDF format at any time and see the current status of your studies.

Change of address
You can change your address and that of your parents/guardians and emergency contact online at any time.

Data transfer information
In Online Services, you can indicate to the University of Basel whether it is permitted to transfer your data to third parties.

ADAM
The ADAM distribution platform is a web-based tool to provide access to files and internet links, for example to make lecture notes available or submit seminar papers. Documents can either be publicly accessible or restricted to specific people.

Eduroam
Eduroam (education roaming) is a global network that enables people at higher education institutions to access the internet from their current campus. This means that next time you visit another university, you will be able to use their campus network without any problems. Simply connect to the eduroam WLAN and follow the instructions.
Software for students

The IT Services provide the Asknet software portal for downloading software. To log in, you will require your Edu-ID address and password. As part of campus contracts, the University is able to offer software at a reduced price or free of charge. All available offers are listed in the Web shop. You can also use the portal to order software not covered by the campus contracts.

Hardware for students

The Neptune Project is a real favorite among students. During two sales windows each year, certain laptops, tablets and other IT accessories can be ordered online at a reduced price. To find out when the next promotion is due to start, go to projektneptun.ch

If your laptop decides to go on strike right in the middle of a paper or project you can borrow a device from the URZ. These devices are solely intended to help out in the event of shortages or breakdowns and are only to be used for teaching and research. They can be borrowed for a maximum of 30 days.

B

Buddy Support
Questions about your study program, lectures or seminars? Want to know how to find a cheap apartment in Basel, where to go out or where to get good coffee? Many Faculty groups offer you the opportunity of support from a “buddy” while getting to know the university. Contact your Faculty group directly to inquire.

C

Credit points
Credit points must be earned throughout your period of study. Generally, one point equates to around 30 hours of study. This system allows your university achievements to be calculated and compared with other universities around the world. But you won’t receive these valuable points until you’ve passed the course assessment (exam, essay, presentation, etc).

Colloquium
In an academic context, colloquia are where research findings are presented and discussed, developed and subjected to critical analysis. They are important not only for scientific exchange and reflection, but also for career advancement. Participation enables students and doctoral candidates to take part in academic debates.

Datenabschrift
A transcript of records is an official document without a signature used by the President’s Office to certify credit points acquired at the University of Basel each semester. Transcripts of records should be retained, as together they form a complete record. They may be required for scholarship applications or for transferring credit points to another university.

unibas.ch/datenabschrift

E

Events
Presentations, panel discussions, Q&A sessions – a great many events take place at the University of Basel, as various as the university itself. An overview of all events can be found in the Public Events Calendar.

unibas.ch/veranstaltungen

F

Faculty groups
Faculty groups (FGs) bring together all students from a particular discipline and thus form the basis for the student representative body, skuba, which represents your interests at department level, organizes events and looks after first-semester students. If you have any questions, they can give you first-hand tips.

Hiwi (Student assistant)

Academic departments are always busy places. Student assistants – or “Hiwis” for short – retrieve books from the library, scan, copy mountains of documents, and also get to take a peek behind the academic scenes. Working as a “Hiwi” is a good part-time job and allows you to make contact with key people in your department.

IT Services

IT Services are responsible for your email address and VPN access to the university network (among other things). You can also download software here. The Neptune Project, which allows you to purchase laptops at a discounted price, is also very popular with students.

“The University of Basel is committed to a respectful culture in which the personal integrity of its students and employees is respected and protected. As the Personal Integrity Coordinator, I am the first point of contact in cases of discrimination, bullying or sexual harassment in the university context and offer confidential counseling sessions for those affected, bystanders and persons responsible for leadership. Do not hesitate if you have experienced or observed something and would like support – I am here for you!”

Cora Wagner
Personal Integrity Coordinator
“The University of Basel Student Union (skuba) is available to all students at the University of Basel – that means you too. We represent your interests in dealing with university management and politics, and are committed to a right to a say and other student concerns. We also offer various opportunities to get to know people, and we run the Lernoullianum, where you will find comfortable spaces for study and relaxation. All students are free to get involved and help shape skuba.”

Valentin Messmer
Board member of skuba

Numerus clausus
If there are more students than places on a course, then a numerus clausus (NC) is applied. At the University of Basel, a NC is used only for programs at the Faculty of Medicine. Unlike at other universities, applicants are not screened according to their grade in their school leaving examination. Instead, they must take a standardized aptitude test or an entrance examination.

Ombudsman’s Office
The Ombudsman’s Office is open to all students wishing to submit a complaint relating to university matters, provided that these do not fall within the remit of another board of appeals. If conflicts arise during your studies that must be treated as confidential, you can contact the Ombudsman’s Office.
unibas.ch/ombudsman-s-office

Psychological support
Anyone can find themselves facing psychological problems. If it happens to you, please do not hesitate to seek help. The Student Advice Center is the first point of contact for students.
unibas.ch/psychological-counseling

Registration
You’ve passed your first semester and that longed-for break has begun. Despite your holiday mood, it’s very important that you don’t forget to register for the coming semester using Online Services. You will receive a reminder email from the university stating the period in which to register.
Research Magazine
UNI NOVA is the University of Basel’s academic magazine. As well as a focus on a particular area, UNI NOVA reports on current research at the University of Basel and features profiles, opinion columns and tips for books and public events. The magazine is published twice a year and subscription is free. Copies of the magazine to take away can be found in various racks in the main building.

S
Seminar and proseminars
Seminars and proseminars are generally aligned with lecture topics. These interactive classes offer an opportunity to work on specific topics based on participants’ contributions in shared discussion. A proseminar provides an introduction to a subject area, with methods presented and practiced and an overview communicated. In a seminar, an individual topic is treated in more depth in joint academic work. The students undertake reports, group work and presentations.

T
Tutorials
Tutorials are classes in which the content of a lecture or seminar is explained and repeated in greater depth. The tutors are normally older students who can give you practical tips and advice.

U
UNIcard
You will receive your UNIcard by post after your matriculation. You will have to reactivate it every semester once you’ve paid your tuition fees. You can use your UNIcard to borrow books from the University Library and pay for food in the canteens. And beyond the campus, UNIcard serves as your student ID.
unicard.unibas.ch

University course directory
This lists all courses taking place in a department in the current semester, and not only states the time and location of a course, but also describes its content in detail. You can use the online timetable to create a list of your courses and transfer this to Online Services during the registration period.

Z
Zschokke-Haus
The Zschokke House is the educational and recreational house of the University of Basel, located in the middle of the skiing and hiking area of Engelberg at 1’262 m.a.s.l. It is a place for research and study, leisure or rest and relaxation. The house can be rented by students and employees for business and private group stays.

Support

To complete your studies successfully, you will also need to deal with many administrative matters and obtain information from various places. The University of Basel has a range of offices that can advise and support you on a wide variety of matters, from admission to your Unibas email address.
Support

The Student Administration Office is a source of general information. If you have a question about admission, registration, matriculation, or semester registration, you’ve come to the right place. There is a ticket system. So please pull a number outside and wait until you are called. However, many questions can be resolved without actually going to the office in person. You can use Online Services to change your address and register for courses, semesters, etc., online.

University Library

The University Library (UB) is probably the true heart of the University of Basel. It can prove somewhat confusing for first-semester students, which is why we recommend taking part in a tour of the library at the start of the semester. After registering in swisscovery (registration.slspe.ch) you are enrolled at the UB which allows you to make use of the library’s services using your UNICard. By the time the exams arrive, things are in full swing here and work spaces become increasingly rare. Coats, bags, and food items are not permitted in the reading rooms of the UB. Your things must be left in the lockers in the basement. Since a partial renovation in 2021, the UB has a variety of contemporary learning spaces, tailored to the different learning needs of students. There is even room for a power nap.

Student Exchange

Your university studies present you with a once in a lifetime opportunity to spend one or two semesters either at a foreign university or at another Swiss university. The University of Basel offers various programs that you should definitely check out. The Student Exchange coordinates the programs on offer and is your first point of contact when you feel the urge to travel. Start considering early on whether and when you want to schedule a semester abroad and find out the deadlines for applications.

Accommodation

Move out or stay at home? Commute or move to the city? And if so, where? Students choose their living arrangements for a wide variety of reasons. As in many cities, Basel’s housing market is tight, so make sure to plan ahead of time for your search!
Sharing an apartment

“I didn’t know anyone in Basel, when I moved here from Hamburg. My shared apartment really helped me with the start of this new phase of my life. Whether you live in a dormitory or in a newly founded flat share – I would always recommend three rules:

1. A fixed and fair cleaning schedule that regulates everything from recycling to cleaning the toilet.
2. One community evening per month, because you don’t automatically see each other just because you live in the same apartment.
3. Sharing the costs of household products such as cleaning supplies or toilet paper, regardless of who buys them.

This has helped us avoid a lot of conflicts and we’ve always gotten along well.”

Jannis Wieczorek
Psychology

“You’re thinking of moving into or organizing your own shared apartment? My tips: if possible, take a few months and find people who are a good fit. Be open and curious about how your new roommates do things – you will soon notice that ‘All roads lead to Rome,’ and that’s a good thing. One other piece of advice: mention things that are concerning you. There’s a solution for everything. So: time to leave Hotel Mom and Dad and start living. Enjoy!”

Accommodation

At home in Basel

The Rhine divides Basel into two parts, Kleinbasel in the north and Grossbasel in the south. The city has 19 residential districts, each with its own special character. The Canton of Basel-Stadt also includes the municipalities of Riehen and Bettingen. Basel is an extremely popular place to live. But despite the tight housing market, it is possible for students to find attractive accommodation.

Gundeli

The Gundeli district is located between the platforms of the SBB train station and Margarethenpark in the south of the city. Although slightly further from the center and the Rhine, advantages for students include lower rents and a direct connection to the SBB station. The district has developed greatly in the last few years and is now known as the “city within the city.” Its good location, many shops and cafés and cultural diversity make Gundeli a lively and attractive place for students.

Grossbasel

Grossbasel encompasses the whole of Basel on the left of the Rhine and, with the old town, also includes the city’s historic center. Grossbasel’s direct proximity to many university buildings and its location in the center of the city are beneficial for students.
Breite

The Breite district lies on the Grossbasel side in the east of the city. Part of the district sits directly on the banks of the Rhine and is particularly famous among students for the “Birsköpfli”, the park in which the Birs flows into the Rhine. In the summer, this is a great place to lie on a towel and relax in the sun, taking an occasional refreshing dip in the Rhine.

Kleinbasel

Kleinbasel is the area to the right of the Rhine. It is a very popular residential area among students, with lower rents than Grossbasel and a very active nightlife. The district’s greatest attraction, however, is the Rhine riverfront, where Basel’s residents spend much of their free time in the summer. Numerous “buvettes” (refreshment stands) between the different bridges and Dreiländereck (border triangle) invite you to while away the time.

Wettstein

The Wettstein district can be found in Kleinbasel on the banks of the Rhine. It houses the premises of the pharmaceutical group Hoffmann-La Roche and gained a new trademark with the Roche Tower, Switzerland’s tallest building, a few years ago. The Wettsteinplatz transport hub provides very good connections to numerous tram and bus routes and to the SBB and Badischer Bahnhof train stations.

WoVe

Looking for accommodation can be a real challenge for students. Luckily, you have the Association for Student Accommodation – or WoVe – on your side. Since 1970, this non-profit organization has been promoting the letting and placement of fair-priced accommodation for young people. You can find our opening hours and further information on our website:
  wove.ch

Why should you register with WoVe?
It’s easy to find a room through WoVe. Depending on size, comfort level and amenities, rents run between CHF 370 and 1060.

How do I go about finding accommodation through WoVe?
You can register for furnished or unfurnished rooms on the WoVe website, by email or in person. If you decide on an unfurnished room, you can contact households with free rooms directly to arrange an inspection and get to know the other residents. If it all works out, WoVe will draw up the rental agreement. If you would prefer a furnished room, you can choose from a list and draw up a rental agreement with the WoVe team. Everyone is free to come and get advice during our office hours.

What kind of accommodation can WoVe arrange?

WoVe can offer lodgings through the “Wohnstiftung für Studierende” (student accommodation foundation) at very reasonable rates. It can also arrange interim use of properties as student lodgings – an ideal solution that is always very reasonably priced. Then there are the special types of residence such as the student house in the Rennbahnklinik in Muttenz.

House for students

In summer 2019, WoVe opened the new student residence in the Erlenmatt quarter, providing highly popular rooms in shared apartments. Grouped around a courtyard, the 16 apartments are accessed via an open stairway and exterior corridors. Each apartment provides accommodation for four to seven individuals. The residents particularly appreciate the fact that they are among their peers in the inner courtyard.
Work

For many students, earning money alongside their studies is a financial necessity. Others simply want to gain practical experience and enhance their CVs. Be it an internship, student job or student assistant position, combining work and studies is always a challenge.
Gaining work experience

“Alongside my studies, I work as an assistant in the management of an outsourcing company for NPOs. At university, I learn the theories and models, and then at work I realize what I can actually use them for. On the other hand, the practical experience can help you to understand things better in your studies. The experiences at work, as well as the insights into different areas help to determine the direction I want to take after graduation, what interests me and where my strengths lie.”

Jasmin Allenbach
Economics

“I am currently working as a DEFi VELO leader, where I get to teach 15- to 20-year-old teenagers and young adults about cycling as a versatile and sustainable means of transport. In doing so, I visit schools in various Swiss cities and can apply and improve my didactic skills at the same time. When choosing my part-time jobs, I make sure to pick projects that are close to my heart.”

Internships

Participating in internships during semester vacations can help launch your career. They allow you to apply what you have learned in real life situations. You won’t make a fortune, but you will be investing in your future.

Let’s work abroad!

The international student network AIESEC organizes internships in companies and schools. With its global volunteering program, AIESEC also offers young people the chance to spend several weeks abroad working for a social project or organization, helping them broaden their horizons on a personal and professional level, put the knowledge from their studies into practice, and build up an international network.

Student jobs

Delivering food and packages as a bicycle courier, taking on night shifts in private care facilities or working as a student assistant in teaching and research: Students in Basel have plenty of options to work alongside their studies. Many need to work to remain financially independent, while others want to gain practical experience during semester vacations. Whether and how much you can work differs from person to person and greatly depends on the phase of your studies, which may allow you to take on larger or smaller responsibilities. However, employers are generally quite understanding about fluctuating workloads and student budgets tend to be fairly flexible too. Nevertheless, combining work and studies remains a challenge. You can find good jobs at:

markt.unibas.ch, ronorp.net/basel/jobs
Student trainees

Some of Basel's largest companies (such as the Baloise Group) employ student trainees. In contrast to many other student jobs, these positions relate to what you are studying and the workload can usually be adapted to fit in with exams and semester vacations. Employers often support bachelor's and master's theses too. The best thing to do is consult the company's website directly.

Career Service Center

So you’ve finished university – what next? The Career Service Center (CSC) will help you get your career off the ground. The CSC offers personalized careers advice, workshops, events and information to make it easier for our students to launch, plan and steer their professional lives. Good application documents and a professional interview are crucial to starting your career successfully. A detailed and intensive check-up will put your application portfolio under the microscope. If necessary, they can also help you to reflect on your situation and outline your prospects. To arrange an appointment, simply email csc@unibas.ch.

The CSC organizes a series of interesting career events under the label “meet&connect.” At workshops and panel discussions students can meet directly with future employers. Every two years, the long night of the career takes place in November. The event features everything from interview training to style coaching.

While it is crucial to get a handle on your studies, what happens outside the lecture hall is just as important. And this is what makes Basel the perfect choice: Not only is it a great place to study, it’s also a great place to live.
Away from the lecture hall

“In addition to my studies in molecular biology, I am also involved in the AG Nachhaltigkeit (Sustainability Working Group). Last year, I took over the management of the Sustainability Week: a one-week forum in which various events on the topic of sustainability are offered by students for students. I dealt with a wide range of topics, from planning to finances to marketing, and worked with many great students. I enjoy working for the Sustainability Working Group because it offers me a balance to my rather theory-heavy studies. In addition, I meet motivated students who care as much about the environment as I do, and I was able to build wonderful friendships.”

“What fulfills me about being involved in Unitheater is that, year after year, new students and different interesting perspectives come together, which have to be negotiated and ultimately brought to the stage. In addition to the collective confrontation with socio-political issues, the focus of the process is on working with one’s own body and voice. With the two productions a year that the two groups of the Unitheater put on, we make an important contribution to the diverse cultural landscape in Basel.”

Traffic

Most University of Basel sites are located close together in the city center. Short distances are best covered using the well-established public transport network. The U-Abo season ticket allows you to travel cheaply as far as Fricktal or into Germany. Or even better – cycle. Low-cost bikes can be found on the University of Basel marketplace or at the Velomärkt.

University Sports

Effortless pirouettes at the barre, long drives on the golf course, sweaty push-ups in Crossfit or a quick Eskimo roll in a kayak: University Sports offers you a program of over 100 sports and body awareness activities. In addition to weekly training sessions from Monday to Saturday, University Sports organizes camps, weekend events, workshops, tournaments, and offers consultations. In addition to our program of activities to attend in person, we have online courses for training at home. Whether you’re a beginner, an all-rounder or a top athlete, we have the right course for you.

If you prefer to train alone, you can take advantage of the modern 1,400-square-meter fitness center, which offers very reasonable prices for members. The center is run by a committed and professional team who will help you with your training.

Most training courses are free and those with costs are advertised at fair prices. Qualified course instructors and modern facilities in a central location make university sports particularly popular. All students at the University of Basel with a valid student ID are entitled to participate. Please note: always bring your ID with you, as there are regular checks at the entrance. Courses quickly become fully booked. Details about the whole range of offerings, further helpful information, and impressions of the events and courses are available online.

Alongside the tuition fees charged by the University of Basel, your studies will involve a few other expenses: books, insurance, rent and (of course) living costs. The following pages provide a guide to the types of costs incurred when you live away from home.
My Budget

Compared to other Swiss cities, Basel is a relatively cheap place to live. The most important thing is to draw up a personal budget at the very start – this can save you a few headaches later on.
Financial support

The Social Services office of the University of Basel can advise you in all financial matters during your studies. For students with very limited resources, the university offers financial aid through its scholarship funds.

Scholarships: Where to ask

Switzerland has a decentralized system of scholarships, which means that each canton has its own rules and regulations. University education is essentially financed either by a student’s parents and/or the canton in which the parents are eligible to pay tax.

Insurance

When starting their studies, most people probably don’t give any serious thought to insurance and leave their parents to sort out such tedious matters. However, it’s high time you took responsibility to avoid any nasty surprises later on. The Social Services at the University of Basel can provide personal advice about insurance and has produced a useful leaflet on insurance tips for students, which is available at unibas.ch/sozialberatung

Students are essentially responsible for their own insurance. Everyone resident in Switzerland is required to take out health insurance unless they are eligible for exemption (for further information, visit kvg.org or unibas.ch/sozialberatung). The hardest part is to choose from the numerous providers. The various premiums can be compared on comparis.ch. It’s vital that your health insurance also includes accident cover – unless you work more than eight hours a week and are therefore covered by your employer. All students enrolled at the University of Basel are provided with automatic and free insurance cover against the consequences of an accident causing permanent damage – however, this does not include medical costs, but is a one-off capital payment in the event of disability due to an accident.

AHV

As a student residing in Switzerland, you are obligated to contribute to AHV (old-age and survivors’ insurance) as of January 1 of the year in which you celebrate your 21st birthday. The minimum annual contribution is 514 Swiss francs (as of 2023) and must be paid in full. So don’t be surprised if an invoice from the compensation office drops through your letterbox. This can only be avoided if you have already paid the minimum amount, for example through deductions from the wages for your part-time job.
